Notice on Change in a Consolidated Subsidiary (Share Transfer)

Teijin Limited (hereinafter, the “Company”) hereby announces that it has resolved today to transfer the shares of its consolidated subsidiary Teijin Automotive Technologies (Tangshan) Co., Ltd. (hereinafter, “TAT Tangshan”) to Qingdao Keda Times Intelligent Equipment Co., Ltd. (hereinafter, “Keda Times”) as detailed below.

1. Reason for the share transfer

Since acquiring its North American business in 2017, the Company has been expanding the automotive composites business by acquiring various new technologies and programs and developing the business globally. However, the business has significantly fallen short of its expected profit levels due to factors such as a deterioration in the business environment on the back of the COVID-19 pandemic and the Company’s production system. In response, we have been concentrating our resources on our base in North America, our key region, to implement measures to improve profitability. We have also been considering selecting and concentrating facilities in our other bases (Europe, China, and Japan). Under such circumstances, we have decided to transfer the shares of TAT Tangshan, the Chinese base of the business, to Keda Times, as we believe this is desirable for both the Teijin Group and TAT Tangshan. As a result, the Company will withdraw from the automotive composites business in China.
